Tribute Paid Red Cross Field Force

War Fund Continues To Grow Long After Solicitation Ceases

By Dr. A. O. Pritchard

"Never thought it" is the key-note of the exclamations of Sierra Madre people over the Red Cross campaign for $7,500. Now that the nationally wide spread effort to raise $125,000,000 is in its last stages, we can well examine the results of our efforts in raising the local quota.

Sierra Madre up to Tuesday noon, had a grand total of $10,217.02, of which $533.00 is in pledges. This places us as third in the Los Angeles County area, being exceeded only by Antelope Valley and Claremont.

One reason for our success was the faithful and thorough work of the 50 solicitors who saw to it that every person in Sierra Madre was given an opportunity to contribute. These solicitors were divided into nine districts, corresponding with the nine voting precincts of the city. Their results are as follows:

- 1.—Mrs. Robert C. Lyon, chairman $1079.60
- 2.—Mrs. W. S. Hull, chairman 1136.05
- 3.—Mrs. R. Pickett, chairman 571.75
- 4.—Mrs. F. A. Spencer, chairman 715.50
- 5.—Mrs. C. L. Young, chairman 753.50
- 6.—Mrs. Fred Griebow, chairman 1039.85
- 7.—Mrs. E. G. Everett, chairman 951.75
- 8.—Mrs. Philip Se-nour, chairman 513.75
- 9.—Dr. J. Andrew Hall, chairman 1005.00

Business, Carl Hansen 1001.51
Miscellaneous organiza-tions 1448.77
Another help and stimulus was the pattern furnished by the schedule prepared in the beginning as a guide to contributors. This has been surpassed as follows:

250	$1,000	$ 750.00
100	$1,500	$1,554.00
50	$1,250	$1,960.47
25	$1,000	$1,242.81
10	$1,000	$2,004.76
5	$1,000	$1,558.45
Under 5	$ 750	$1,146.53

$7,500 $10,217.02
or 136%

The entire city owes a debt of gratitude to the faithful workers who have so truly enabled our city to express its devotion to the ministrations of the Red Cross.

Meat Famine Ends at Camp Santa Anita

Just like the civilian population, the Army has its meat problems. And just like civilians, it solves them with substitutes.

Mess halls at Camp Santa Anita have just resumed serving beef after nearly a full week during which the ice box was bare. The shortage was created by an OPA order which halted the sale of beef to this and other Southern California camps between March 29th and April 11th while a survey of the meat situation was being made. Some deliveries of beef already paid for were made during that period, but since April 3rd, no more fresh beef was received at camp.

The solution—aside from using surpluses stored away in the camp's centralized butchery—was just such a rainy day—as the substitution of scrambled eggs and tomato dishes, macaroni and cheese, baked beans and fish, and other appetizing dishes.

What The Revised Selective Service Classifications Mean To Registrants

Here are the revised classifications for selective service registrants as announced Tuesday at Selective Service headquarters in Washington:

- I-A—Available for military service.
- I-A-O—Conscientious objector available for non-combatant military service.
- I-C—Member of land or naval forces of the United States.
- II-A—Man necessary in his essential civilian activity.
- II-B—Man necessary to the war production program.
- II-C—Man deferred by reason of his agricultural occupation or endeavor.
- III-A—Man with child or children deferred by reason of maintaining bona fide family relationship.
- III-C—Man with dependents who is regularly engaged in agricultural occupation or endeavor.
- III-D—Man deferred because induction would cause extreme hardship and privation to a wife, child, or parent with whom he maintains a bona fide family relationship.
- IV-A—Man 45 years old, or over, who is deferred by reason of age.
- IV-B—Officially deferred by law.
- IV-C—Neutral aliens requesting relief from liability for training and service, and aliens not acceptable to the armed forces.
- IV-D—Minister of religion or divinity student.
- IV-E—Physically, mentally, or morally unfit.
- IV-F—Men 38 to 45 now deferred because their age group is not being accepted for military service. (This group is being reclassified in case of eventual call.)

Tuesday Deadline For Payment Of County Taxes

Next Tuesday, April 20, is the deadline for the payment of the second installment of Los Angeles county taxes. The last minute rush to avoid delinquency is not expected to be as great as in recent years because of the unprecedented volume of money in circulation due to high wages and general employment.

Speeders To Lose Their Gas Books

A traffic panel has been established at the District War Price and Rationing Board, at 129 S. Myrtle ave., Monrovia, and will start this week, functioning according to Ralph E. Connor, secretary of the board.

This panel will handle traffic citations and violations as such records are received by the district board. Traffic violators will appear for a hearing and if the situation warrants, the supplemental ration books for gasoline may be cancelled. Citations have been issued in an attempt to slow down speeding that is depleting the rubber stock. If violation is made in another state, the action and conviction will still be taken care of by the violator's local board.

Revision of tire rationing regulations to provide a closer check against possible bootlegging operations as well as violations of the tire inspection requirements will be effective today, April 15. The tire inspection record for each car must be kept in the vehicle while in operation, unless given permission for removal by the ration board.

A tire inspector will report any serial number irregularity to the local War Price Ration Board that issued the tire inspection record to the car rather than to the board which appointed the inspector.

When an applicant for a tire or tube does not have a tire inspection record showing that all inspection requirements have been met, the local ration board, at its discretion, may grant the application if an inspection has been made within 60 days prior to filing of the application.

Kortkamp to Search Sky For Enemies

Percy C. Kortkamp of 32 Park avenue, has resigned his position with the Sierra Madre Hardware Co. and he and Mrs. Kortkamp, a director of the Woman's Club, have signed up with the government aircraft warning service. They will leave Friday for the desert area in the vicinity of Lancaster to which they have been assigned and where they will live in a trailer, taking turns with their eyes on the sky in search of unfriendly planes.

Mrs. Kortkamp was honored by directors of the Woman's Club after their board meeting Wednesday. A light buffet luncheon was served with a large cake, attractively decorated with the words, "Best Wishes," and was presented to Mrs. Kortkamp with a handsome silk lounging robe.

The Women's Society of the Congregational Church also honored Mrs. Kortkamp at a farewell tea on Tuesday, April 6, in the church parlors. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Convers Twycross and Mrs. W. J. Miller attended the tea service.

PASS THE AMMUNITION

We on the home front face one of the most personal challenges of this war to date. That challenge is whether or not we are willing to sacrifice to a sufficient extent to lend our government thirteen billion dollars within the next few weeks.

To do the job, you and I, and everyone we know, are going to have to dig down in our sock—to dig out some of those dollars we have salted away for a rainy day—as well as to take a good hunk out of this month's pay check.

This is a job that has to be done. Sure, we on the home front are feeling the pinch of the war. We have gasoline rationing, food rationing, higher taxes and a lot of other little discomforts. But they are nothing compared with the agonies faced daily by our men—from this community among them—out there on the fighting fronts of the world.

Yes, we know that this constant demand for more money out of our pockets and out of our paychecks—an increasing amount each month—is monotonous. But so is sitting in a fox-hole or lying in a slit-trench day after day, slogging through the hell of a humid jungle or that of Sahara sand.

Our sons, friends, brothers, husbands and others we know are doing that for us. They are facing something more terrible than cutting down on a few things that we once thought were essentials to the American standard of living in order to do it, too. As Secretary Morgenthau has said: "Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?"

The Second War Loan is an order to the home front to go on a new offensive. Your dollars are the weapons in this attack. They will make possible the passing of the ammunition to those boys up there in the front lines. To win this war is going to cost more and more money—and more and more lives. But the price of freedom is high. We can not; we dare not let our fighting men down.

You can't let George do this for you. You must pitch in with your dollars. Just keep in mind those boys in the front lines. They give their lives—you lend your money! Don't wait for someone to come around and ask you to do it. Do it today—and do it until you feel worthy of them.

Medals on his uniform attesting his efficiency in the handling of many weapons since he joined the Marines more than a year ago, Sgt. Don Jackson was home over the weekend to visit his mother, sister and friends. In the outfit with which he is now identified he is associated with many survivors of the Wake Island garrison.

Coast Guardsman Billy Kiggins, now assigned to patrol duty in the Santa Maria area, arrived Saturday to visit his mother. Pvt. Joby Kiggins of the Army has been transferred to Camp Meade, Md.

Wesley Perry, now with the Marines at Camp Pendleton, was up to spend the weekend with his family and friends and reported he is enjoying the training.

Pvt. Andrew Roy Buchan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Buchan, 130 E. Montecito ave., was graduated from Armament School, at the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command at Lowry Field, Colorado, April 3. He graduated from Pasadena Junior College in 1940 and entered the Army on Nov. 11, 1942. He was an aircraft draftsman at the Lockheed plant before joining the

April Draft Quota Here Is Reduced; Induction On 27th

April 27 has been set for the induction of men of this draft district called in the April draft quota, it was announced at the Selective Service headquarters in Monrovia this week. Names of the men called will not be announced until after those notified to report have submitted to the Army physical examination, in keeping with a recent order issued by Gen. Hershey intended to prevent embarrassment to those rejected for physical reasons.

The number to be called in this area during April and May will be at least 12 per cent under the quota originally assigned the Sierra Madre-Arcadia-Monrovia district, with the probability that the June and July quota will be considerably higher.

Asks All Japs Be Sent Back To Japan

American Taken Prisoner By Them In China Tells Of Their Atrocities

Describing as almost unbearably cruel and inhuman the treatment of American prisoners of war by the Japanese, Paul Anderson, former Red Cross representative in China, himself a war prisoner of the Japs in 1942, proposed to the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting Tuesday that it give support to a movement looking to the sending of all Japanese, regardless of whether they were born in this country or Japan, to Japan after the war. Some of the most horrible atrocities he witnessed, he said, were committed by Japanese returned from the United States, where they had been educated.

For nearly 30 years Mr. Anderson was an American life insurance company's representative in China and shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor was acting as a Red Cross representative looking after American interests. For several months he managed to get along very well with the Japanese military officers, he said, but in March 1942 he was thrown into prison with 30 other prominent Americans.

They were penned in a nine by thirteen foot room without furniture of any kind or sanitary facilities, ill fed and most inhumanly treated. Finally his Red Cross standing was verified and he was released. The other Americans were still confined under the horrible conditions he suffered when he was one of the Americans exchanged for Japanese officials held here, returning to the States on the steamer Gripsholm.

Before his incarceration Mr. Anderson witnessed many atrocities too horrible to describe, he said. He was introduced to the Kiwanians by Dan C. Reib, the two having been long-time friends in China. Twenty seven Alta-dena Kiwanians, guests of the local club, heard Mr. Anderson.

As Mr. Anderson was delivering his address Gen. John L. DeWitt, commanding general of the Western Defense Command, was protesting vehemently before the House Naval Affairs committee sitting in San Francisco against granting permission for the return of excluded Japanese to the coastal area. He said he was opposing the idea with "all his efforts."

"I have noticed increasing sentiment in some quarters in favor of letting Japanese-Americans come back to this military zone," said the General. "I have the job of defending this coast... the danger of Japanese attack was and is espionage and sabotage. It makes no difference whether the Japanese is a citizen or not he's still a Japanese and can't change."

Later in his testimony before the committee the General protested that disquiet regulations are not sufficiently strict and that their weakness would contribute largely to any success of any attempted Japanese raid.

Sierra Madreans Respond Splendidly In Second War Loan Campaign

Season's Rainfall Now 38.46 Inches

Light showers between last Thursday and Tuesday, with a brief thunder shower Monday afternoon, brought a little more than another half inch of rain, bringing the season's total at the city pumping plant to 38.46 inches in contrast with 13.47 inches at this time a year ago. Temperatures for the week were:

	Max.	Min.
April 8	58°	52°
April 9	58°	40°
April 10	58°	40°
April 11	56°	40°
April 12	68°	40°
April 13	74°	40°
April 14	78°	40°

Estimated Nearly A Third Of City's $100,000 Quota Met In First Three Days

Sierra Madreans were responding splendidly in the first three days of the Second War Loan Drive. Glenn L. Alspach, co-chairman of the local committee announced last night after the city council had voted to invest $10,000 of the municipal contingent fund in the world's greatest security.

With the city's investment but in the absence of anything like complete reports from the field force calling upon local citizens, Mr. Alspach estimated that somewhat less than a third of Sierra Madre's $100,000 quota had already been raised and members of the committee declared the citizens interviewed showed a deep understanding of their duty to the government if the war is to be successfully prosecuted.

Volunteer workers are in the field, armed with order blanks and detailed information on the Treasury's offerings of "investments to fit every purse," and will continue their intensive canvass until every citizen has been given an opportunity to buy extra bonds to the limit of his ability, Mr. Alspach said.

"The amount we must raise during this three-weeks drive is large," he added, "but it must and will be raised. The size of the task is by no means out of proportion to the increased income of the people due to huge war expenditures."

"This is investing, not giving, through purchase of the best security in the world. It is a loan and it will be repaid, with interest. Buying bonds to the limit of one's capacity is a patriotic duty, a privilege and an opportunity. Besides, each bond bought by an individual with money saved as a result of curtailed spending does its part in checking inflation, which is caused by excess purchasing power and a scarcity of goods."

"Our fighting men are doing their part. We on the home front must not let them down. Fittingly, the drive's slogan is 'They give their lives; you lend your money.'"

Sierra Madre Girl Says Mme. Chiang Worlds First Woman

Miss Grace Nord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Nord of 678 Manzanita ave., was one of two P.J.C. students who won top awards in the Frederick Arthur Smith Memorial contest in Shakespearean interpretation held Tuesday in the Little Theater, Pasadena Junior College, East Campus.

Miss Nord, with her selection from "Macbeth," was judged the best of the girl contestants. She has been active in dramatic circles at the college, and last year wrote a play, acted in it and produced it over a local radio station.

Population Of L A County Is Up 14.9 Pct. In 3 Years

There has been an increase of 14.9 per cent in the population of Los Angeles county since the census of 1940 was taken, according to a survey just completed by the County Regional Planning Commission. It stands now at 3,201,980 persons, a gain of 416,337 in the three year period. Incorporated cities of the county contributed 14.2 per cent of the increase, the unincorporated area 18.7 per cent and the City of Los Angeles 11.8 per cent. Population of the city is placed at 1,682,510 by the survey.

Episcopal Rector Will Return To His Pulpit Sunday

The Rev. John S. Neal, rector of the Church of the Ascension, is recovering from his recent operation and expects to be present for the 10:30 o'clock service on Palm Sunday, when he will be assisted by the Rev. Edward Bruce.

CITY'S FAMED WISTARIA VINE STILL BLOOMS GLORIOUSLY BUT FETE ENDS SUNDAY

Though Sierra Madre's famed Wistaria vine is still blooming gloriously and attendance at this year's Fete has greatly exceeded all expectations, notwithstanding gas and tire rationing, members of the Woman's Club in charge of the festival announced yesterday it would come to an end Sunday evening.

Bright, warm weather on Sunday brought the largest crowd of the season. Average daily attendance for the week was well over 400 and it was estimated that three fourths of the visitors came in on the electric trains. Throughout the Fete there has been an unprecedented demand for food, though it was possible to serve only teas and light lunches so that many visitors were disappointed at not being able to enjoy a meal under the beautiful lavender bower.

A register being kept in the dining pavilion of Wistaria Vine Gardens shows that this year's event has attracted visitors from 29 States and seven foreign countries, though not nearly all of the visitors enter the pavilion, and therefore was not registered.

SOCIETY

RAPPOLEES ENTERTAIN AT POT-LUCK SUPPER

Commander and Mrs. C. E. Rappolee were recent hosts of friends at a pot luck supper at their home on 491 W. Montecito ave.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Andrew Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Billheimer, Miss Martha Pritchard, Dr. A. O. Pritchard, Mrs. Adria Johnson, Mrs. Lillian Johnson, Miss Emma Jameson, and Mrs. France O'Leary of Boston, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Andrew Hall.

MISS E. MAE FULLER AND JOHN ZLATNIK ARE WED

In an informal ceremony at the Fuller family home at 413 N.

Oakland avenue, Pasadena, Miss E. Mae Fuller was married to John Zlatnik of Topeka, Kansas, Saturday evening.

As Miss Betty Mae Aill, neice of the bride, lighted white tapers in candelabras on a fireplace mantle, the bridal party advanced to an altar beautifully arranged and banked with baskets of white stock and waternias. Dr. A. O. Pritchard received the marriage vows.

The bride was gowned in a deep blue sheer dress accented with white and carried a bridal bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis. Her only attendant, Miss Berta Uriarte of Sierra Madre, was dressed in a pale blue crepe frock and wore a corsage of yellow jonquils. Justine Fuller, of Altadena, brother of the bride, served Mr. Zlatnik as best man.

Sixty five guests and relatives attended the wedding reception after the ceremony. After a short wedding trip in Laguna Beach, the couple will be at home to their many friends at 413 N.

Oakland avenue in Pasadena. Mrs. Zlatnik, who is well known in the southland, recently completed 16 years of service as resident advisor for the Children's Community Plaza Home in this city.

HONOR MARINE LIEUT. AT FAMILY REUNION

Gathering Sunday for a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman at 460 N. Lima st., were Mrs. Hartman's sisters and brother-in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans, and sons Edwin and Preston, of Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pegler, son and daughter, Jack and Barbara of Sunny Hills Ranch, in Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tarter of Burlingame and their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Preston with daughter Mareta of 448 E. Montecito ave., and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Preston, Jr., and their young son, Tommy.

The occasion, also honored Rudolph Hartman, Jr., who is home on leave after graduating from the Naval Air Training Station at Corpus Christi, Tex., with the rank of Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF MRS. PAULINE STAMER

To celebrate her birthday, Mrs. Pauline Stamer entertained fifteen friends at an afternoon card party at her home, 196 N. Adams st., on April 4.

Effective arrangements of lilacs decorated the house. A buffet supper was served at 7 p.m. Mrs. Stamer was assisted by her two daughter, Misses Sophie and Louise Stamer.

Social Notes

The Conserso Club, young women's group of the Congregational Church, will hold a benefit bridge and tea at the N. W. Tarr home, at 274 W. Montecito ave., on Thursday, April 29, from 2 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Robert Baugh will be in charge of the arrangements.

Recent luncheon guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Andrew Hall of 611 W. Grand View ave., were Miss Ida Kirk and Miss Jeanette Shafer of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lindsay and Mrs. S. Hubeny of Pasadena, and Mrs. Hall's sister, Mrs. Frances O'Leary of Boston, Mass., who has been visiting in the southland during the winter months.

Woman's Society To Continue Melting Pot Discussion

The April meeting of the Women's Society of the Congregational Church will be held Tuesday, April 20, in the church parlors. Luncheon will be in charge of the Dorcas Circle, with Mrs. Ford Blakeman as leader. Reservations should be made by calling 5596.

The program will continue the "American Melting Pot" series with Mrs. Ben Hinkley, Mrs. Ralph Lord, Mrs. Belle Milles, Miss Bertha Yoemans and Miss Martha Pritchard participating. Mrs. George Morgridge will review the highlights of Louis Adams' book, "What Is Your Name?"

Women Firemen Will Graduate To-morrow

The first group graduation of women auxiliary firemen of the Los Angeles County Defense Council will take place at LaCrescenta, April 16. A class of over 50 auxiliary wardens who have been trained in the LaCrescenta-LaCrescenta area contains 35 women to be graduated. The women auxiliary firemen have been enrolled in the Defense Council set-up to augment the present force and to give daytime coverage to this particular section while the male population is working in nearby defense plants.

New Officers Elected By Jr. Women

Mrs. Althea Butler was elected president of the Junior Women's Club at the April 8, meeting. Other officers elected were Mrs. Ann Hutchinson, vice-president; Irene McClelland, recording secretary; Nita Twedell, corresponding secretary, and Reva Fussell, treasurer. Mrs. John H. Robertson, who has so faithfully served the Junior Women in past years, was again elected as Junior advisor.

Mrs. Richard (Winnie) Lees, was elected delegate to attend the Los Angeles District convention in Los Angeles on Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17. Mrs. Barbara Heasley was selected to appear on the "Do or Die" quiz program to be held on the Friday evening hi-jinks.

All members are urged to attend the April 22 meeting at the clubhouse when Miss Eleanor Gidds, state vice-president of the California Federation of Junior Women's Clubs, will speak to the group about club organization. Nita Twedell will introduce the speaker.

A generous person who wishes to remain anonymous, will pay the dance orchestra that will play for the May Day dance to be sponsored by the Juniors at the clubhouse, Saturday, May 1.

Dorothy Hawks will be in charge of the selection of the orchestra. Winnie Lees will direct the ticket sale and decoration of the clubhouse will be in charge of Nita Twedell. Advertising will be taken care of by Althea Butler. Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be turned over to the club's philanthropic projects.

Soldier And Sailor Take Brides At Double Wedding

Approximately a hundred guests attended the double wedding ceremony in the garden patio of Mr. and Mrs. George Dudley of Michillinda blvd. on Sunday, uniting Lilla Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Ray of Longview, Texas, with Seaman First Class Buck Jordan of the Navy, son of Mr. and Mr. J. E. Jordan, also of Longview, Texas; and Marie Schubert, daughter of Mrs. Emily Schubert of Long Beach, with Seaman First Class Donnell E. Schrader of the Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Schrader of Sierra Madre.

Both brides were charmingly gowned in white, and the entire flower theme of the wedding was carried out in various white spring flowers.

The U.S. Navy band from the base at Terminal Island played the wedding music, and for dancing that followed the ceremony. A late afternoon luncheon buffet was served to guests, as they extended their best wishes to the two brides and bridegrooms.

A two way radio weighing only 32 pounds has been developed for the armed forces. Carried on a man's back and having a range of 10 miles in daytime, it has proven useful not only on land but also at sea. Ships in a convoy can hear the signals but they fade out before reaching enemy ears.

Opening night has been set aside as the Ice-Capades Five Million Dollar War Bond Premiere, at which all seats will be free, the only obligation being the purchase of a war bond.

This year's ice opus is a tripartite show. First it unfolds all the beauty of ice skating, the epitome of speed and motion. Secondly it boasts a high peak in gorgeous costumes, which cost $150,000, and third it has all the beauty of ballet, while, at the same time, adding to the rhythmic flow of the ballet, as ice is a better medium than the stage.

Vera Hrubá tops the list of America's greatest ice performers.

Cheerfulness is a friend to grace; it puts the heart in tune to praise God, and so honors religion by proclaiming to the world that we serve a good master.—Be serious, yet cheerful.

VEGETABLES AT THEIR BEST

French Style Onions—a new and delicious way to serve this every day vegetable.

IN old B. V. (Before Vitamins) days we did weird things to vegetables—such as soaking before cooking, boiling long and hard in deep water, peeling skins in thick ribbons. After all that drubbing the poor vegetables arrived on the table looking dejected—and tasting that way, too.

Now we know better. We bake and boil vegetables in their skins where possible. We're stingy with water, very stingy. We keep them tightly covered and never stir them. We cook them quickly, eat immediately. And have discovered that vegetables treated thus not only are better for us—but have lovely fresh flavor. They're fun to eat!

Having mastered the new technique we can go on from there to add a few flourishes. For instance, the humble little onion fixed this way has new zest and spirit.

French Style Onions

5 cups small silver-skinned onions
1 can condensed consommé
Pinch of pepper
3 tablespoons grated cheese (sharp)
Heat the consommé to boiling, add onions and cook until tender, about 40 minutes. Then add pepper and grated cheese just before serving. Serves 5.

And celery—it's another prosaic every day vegetable—but in this cream tomato sauce you'd never guess it:

Celery in Tomato Sauce
4 cups celery, cut in pieces about 1 inch long and 3/4 inch wide
Cook the celery in water until tender. Then drain.

Tomato Cream Sauce:
1 can condensed tomato soup
2 tablespoons cream (heavy)
Add the cream to the tomato soup and heat. Pour sauce over the cooked celery. Season, if necessary. Serves 6.

ARMY ORDER WILL SILENCE ALL RADIO STATIONS DURING FUTURE AIR RAID ALARMS

Because of failure of Southern California residents to heed an air raid warning on March 16, Lt. Gen. John L. De Witt, commanding general of the Western Defense Command and Fourth Army has taken steps to clarify the air raid warning procedure along the west coast. In the future, he announced, radio stations will be ordered off the air when a red alert is given. Following is the full procedure as given the Fourth Fighter Command:

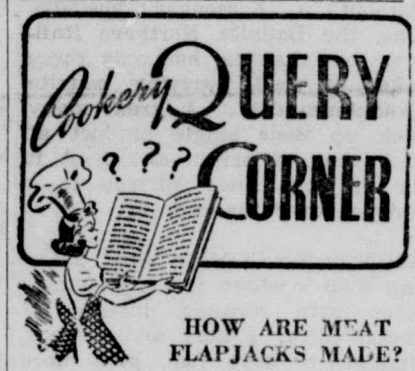

1. In the event of unidentified planes or targets 30 minutes distant, the Fourth Fighter Command, under normal procedure, will order a yellow warning, which is confidential. A radio silence may or may not be ordered.

2. When such planes or targets are 20 minutes distant and still unidentified, under normal procedure, a blue warning, also confidential, will be ordered. A radio silence may or may not be ordered.

3. When such planes or targets are only 10 minutes distant, and unidentified, under normal procedure, a signal OSVAN "air raid warning" (red) will be given and a radio silence will be ordered.

Then and then only the public will be warned by audible air raid warning signals.

An instrument has been developed that enables blind persons to make precision inspection of certain machine products in war industries.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

Never in California history has a legislative session churned up more bills of direct and significant concern to women, than this one.

Space limitation precludes lengthy analyses, but here are the high points of such legislation gleaned from a sub-normal total of 3000 bills introduced at the 1943 session at Sacramento. Strangely enough, most of these will not be found in any cataloging of proposals under the head of "Women".

Community property enthusiasts should gird for this one:

AB 842 by Nelson Dilworth of Hemet would grant a wife control of her own earnings "so long as the money is not converted into other property nor commingled with community property". But she "may not make a gift nor dispose of same without a valuable consideration, without the written consent of her husband".

Non-resident cosmetologists coming into the State could take up their work without delay under terms of AB 343 by Dilworth and Ernest Debs of Los Angeles, authorizing temporary licensing without examination during the war emergency.

Marriage would confer "adult status" on 18-year-old girls, and annulment would not change that status, under provisions of AB 810 by Willis Sargent of Pasadena. And AB 625 by Julian Beck of San Fernando would deny parents "the custody, service or earnings of minor children who shall have reached the age of 18".

The vast and increasing number of 18-year-old fighting men now in service is recognized in SCA 4 by John Swan of Sacramento and ACA 11 by Wm. Rosenthal of Los Angeles. It would grant the voting privilege at that age. One of the finest and most thorough analyses yet seen of the legislative grist is that prepared by Vincent D. Kennedy, managing director of the California Retailers Association. Leading his list of women's legislation is the "equal rights" amendment, ACA 9 by Alfred Robertson of Santa Barbara and seven colleagues, providing, simply, that "men and women shall have equal rights in California".

Mainly concerned with employment and labor relations are the 20 other bills Mr. Kennedy sifts out and clarifies for women. They raise to 50 pounds the weight women in industry may be required to lift; relax maximum hours for women; provide parallel wages for parallel work and lift the minimum weekly wage to $20. They mark as Vincent Kennedy points out "a changing pattern of community life"—one of which women must be constantly and intelligently aware.

The highest wisdom is continued cheerfulness; such a state, like the region above the moon, is always clear and serene.

GOT A HOOK 'N LINE?

Every fisherman has felt the burning exasperation of being outwitted by a fish; of using every enticement his gear affords—and being unable to catch one silvery beauty out of a creek full.

According to word from the San Francisco League for Service Men, the problem among our boys at distant battle stations is different. They haven't got the gear.

"There isn't a post in all of Alaska that hasn't asked for tackle—not rods and reels, but merely lines and hooks," says General A. Cornell, just returned from Alaskan duty. And the requests from boys in the South Pacific where waters abound with fish, are similar.

Old tackle that can be put into condition, or new equipment, is greatly needed says the League, not just to provide recreation for the boys and to supplement food supplies—but to help save lives of men cast adrift in the sea by Axis torpedoes.

So while you're grooming your fishing outfit for this year's expedition (or storing it away 'till the gas and tire situation improves), pull out all you can spare of lines and hooks, and maybe even a reel, to help a service man. Send it to the League headquarters in San Francisco, the principal supply depot for shipments to the Pacific war area.

Some boy in service will help make up for the big one you didn't catch.

LOOK AHEAD

The day war ends, you will have beaten what remained of your kitchen pans to a pulp. You will have cheered yourself hoarse. Some will shed tears of sorrow for the lost, but all will shed more for the joy of Peace. Yes, sir, the day war ends will be something for the children of your grandchildren to hear about.

But what about the days after that? You will begin to scratch your head and look around wondering where to begin again. You will feel like a farmer who has just watched the passing of the tornado and doesn't know where to start repairing the damage. But sooner or later, you will have to roll up your sleeves and start in on that huge task of adjusting yourself and your livelihood to the new way of living brought by the Peace.

These adjustments are going to be difficult. But perhaps most to the point, they are going to be expensive! Will you be prepared to meet new costs? It may be that a few extra hundred dollars will turn the trick to start you in the right direction.

The income you are making today is just so much fluff. We all know that it cannot last forever. Be smart. Put every dollar you can lay your hands on into savings accounts. And here is a tip—the best way for ending the war sooner, and at the same time preparing for Peace, is buying war bonds.

The Treasury department reports that one in ten persons must borrow this year to pay his income tax. If you were the "one", start over again. Build up that savings account at the bank. And how about putting twenty or thirty—or even forty per cent of your earnings into Bonds for Peace?

JUST BUBBLES

Chairman Donald Nelson of the War Production Board has stated it is not desirable to curtail civilian production much further, but cautioned against over-optimism since there is no telling how long, nor how heavily, war may beset us. He declared management and labor had lifted the U. S. to a height of potential military power never known before, and done the job in democracy's style, while Hitler used the methods of a dictator and faced a breakdown in production as a final result. The absenteeism and occasional misconduct in industry had, he said, been "merely bubbles on the tidal wave of the American war effort." It is strange how prone we humans are to look at the hole in the doughnut. Absenteeism makes the headlines, but the thousands upon thousands of faithful men and women who work every day—that's just normal and gets no attention!

WELCOME NEWS

The American Housewife will welcome the news of the increased value of ration coupons announced by the OPA for this period. She was willing enough to adjust her home economic program to the necessities of the war effort. But she felt, as have most of us, that some of the point values were too high to permit variety of nutrition.

The changes just made will ease somewhat the complex job of keeping the family well fed under existing conditions. Then, too, a less severe rationing program—insofar as it proves consistent with the war effort—will enable our vital food distributing industry to function more efficiently.

Recently, growers from all over the nation pointed out to the OPA that it would be difficult for a majority of them to stay in business on the basis of the amount of food previously allowed to each consumer. This would have meant a breaking down, or even destroying, of much of the efficiency and economy of operation that had been built up over a period of many years through scientific marketing methods developed by progressive retail outlets.

The first steps in any program as vast and complicated as food rationing on a national scale could hardly have been taken without some difficulties and injustices. Now, however, that the OPA has had a chance to survey the situation with rationing actually in effect, these mistakes may be corrected. Our Kitchen Commanders must have all the ammunition possible to carry on the battle on the home front.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

OUR TURTLE was but an inch wide when the little girl next door passed him to us through the fence. He's been living in our fish-pond ever since—say, six or seven years. And now he's about five inches wide, thus having gained something better than half-an-inch each year. We can't say that we've tamed him. Still, there has grown up between us a certain familiarity; which, so far as he is concerned, has fruited into a sort of tolerance. He'll still dive from a sunny rock when we come too close; yet without panic haste, blinking at us later from the water-weeds with a touch of interrogation—of an interest not, perhaps, quite Platonic: the hint that if we'll bring him a worm or a fly he'll meet us halfway and take it from our hand.

SOMETIMES, a little against our conscience, we do go to catch him a fly or find a worm. Which he accepts on occasion with an obvious gusto—revealing his little pink mouth with an air of licking his lips and craning his neck as if looking for more. But as often as not he'll turn his back on us when we come with our offering and go down scrambling into the ooze at the bottom of the pool. It's there he's passed all the colder months since he came to live with us. It's there he retires—seemingly with a perfect willingness—whenever a cool spell comes or is about to come—in the warmer seasons. You can't watch a creature like that—from another world, so to speak; from another cycle of the Lord's creation—without, perhaps, retrieving something from the depths of your own abyssal past.

FROM WHAT, in the classics of the East, is sometimes called "The Abyss of Wisdom"—meaning the All-Wisdom; the Infinite Rose from which this Creation of ours has fallen like a single pink petal; but which, nevertheless, keeps the quality of that Rose—its mystery, wonder, fragrance. A whiff of all which mysteriously returns at times—even in your contemplation of a turtle; especially these Spring days when all the birds are so passionately vocal, when everything in Nature seems to be reaching up—as on the dawn of another Judgment Day, with death and hell delivering up their dead—up to the Great White Throne. Times when even this turtle may, in a sort of Alice in Wonderland mood, take us by the hand and lead us along Plato's "pathway towards reality."

EVEN, MAY it be, via this blackness and oblivion of the ooze at the bottom of his pool. So very like—we sometimes think—the clinging bad old image even we Christians—(true or false?)—have of death. "This isn't death," the turtle says, as he goes down gladly to the sunless depths. "Life goes with me. Life abides. With Life I'll return again to a milder hour." And with a degree of reverence we seem to recall some memory from away down deep in our own being; deep down through clear but gradually darkening waters of our own fathomless pool—down "through caverns measureless to man"—into that Abyss of Wisdom which Plato knew, and which the Master Jesus seemed to know, but which so many of our Scribes and Pharisees now appear to regard as mere superstition.

THAT OLD doctrine of Plato's—or of Socrates—or both—that Wisdom and Goodness are One; that these One are the very substance of the world; this Nature that can, at times, appear to be so cruel but which—and this is the Reality of the Platonic Pathway along which the Turtle is leading us—is Altogether Good. Our souls know this, even when our senses dull or distort the knowledge. So—according to the ancient doctrine—when the great moment comes, this Moment of Death, it is with a gladness that the soul escapes. Leading us to speculate a little, as we watch our turtle scurry down into his oozy tomb: Is this not his day of that Resurrection we celebrate as Easter?

EASTER, NOW, and the time when our casualties will be coming in—Roll of Honor after Roll of Honor—"Mort pour la Patrie," as the French phrase has it; raising the question as to which Patrie—which Fatherland?—Land of the Universal Father!—so Plato, or Socrates, might have answered; basing their answer on the concept that all men, all things, are divine, since they are issued solely from "the Maker of the World." Or, had these Athenians lived today, how now would they have framed their answer? Like this, we sometimes muse as we watch our turtle: "Since God made all,

A large volume of lumber treated to make it fire-resistant is going into special aircraft hangars like the giant 17-story "barns" for Navy blimps, various ordnance plants, wharf structures, depots and naval vessels. The wartime use of this lumber, treated principally with ammonium and boron salts, indicates a trend toward development of a new nationwide industry. Probably the greatest market of all for fireproofed wood after the war will be in industrial and residential construction, engineers believe. There the use of fire-resistant lumber will localize any fire from furnishings, stored materials, defective wiring or faulty heating equipment.

Sharpest barb of the week, from the Orange Daily News—"A hundred and fifty years ago, Thomas Jefferson uttered these prophetic words: 'Where we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap, we should soon want bread!' But we must remember that the Sage of Monticello also said: 'Whenever our affairs go obviously wrong, the good sense of the people will interpose and set them right.'"

The actress-politico, Helen Gahagan, is getting encouragement from The White House (her friends say) to run for U.S. Senator in California's free-for-all next year. Who's next?

According to the Office of Defense Transportation, approximately 25 per cent of the travel on trains and buses today is non-essential. Such travel, the ODT declares, must be curtailed if war workers are to have an occasional respite from yard and factory during the summer. Other suggested means of affording brief vacations to those who need them most include the staggering of such periods and beginning and ending them in mid-week. Vacations won't be long this year.

● The overture to today's Guess Again Quiz has taken a musical twist. Here's a chance to make a solo performance.

1. A concert by a timbrel would not be very pleasing to the ear because it is (a) a squeaky instrument, (b) a tambourine, (c) brassy a clavicord.

2. This animal is an (a) Ichtyosaurus; (b) Rhinoceros; (c) Hippopotamus; (d) Wild Boar.

3. In our universe the biggest planet is (a) Jupiter, (b) Pluto, (c) Saturn, (d) Venus.

4. Wild Bill Hickok was killed while playing in a poker game. The hand he held when he was shot is now called the "Death Hand." It is (a) four kings, (b) aces and eights, (c) a spade flush, (d) two jacks with ace high.

5. People speak of the Tricolor meaning the flag of (a) Italy, (b) the United States, (c) Great Britain, (d) France.

6. Pick out the name in the following series that is out of place: (a) Harrow, (b) Eton, (c) Rugby, (d) Stratford.

7. The albatross plays a very important part in a famous narrative poem. Can you name it? (a) Childe Harold, (b) Don Juan, (c) The Ancient Mariner, (d) The Wreck of the Hesperus.

"GUESS AGAIN" Tally Score Here
1. Allow 15 points for answer (b).
2. (b) again and 15 again.
3. Add only 10 on (a).
4. (b) is worth 20 big points.
5. Chalk 10 more up on (d).
6. (d) once more and 15 points.
7. 15 on (c).
YOUR RATING: 90-100, musically your performance was staccato and dolce; 80-90, nice baton waving; 70-80, theme was fine, but you went astray on the variations; 60-70, dirge for you.

A survey just completed shows that the majority of Americans are against lowering the voting age to 18. It seems to us that if an 18-year-old youth is mature and hardy enough to fight in a modern war, he is sufficiently tough to enter American politics—but we could be wrong.

What They Say ---

Senator Harold Swan, Sacramento, former New Dealer—"Washington wrote a great farewell address. I am one Democrat who believes Roosevelt can write an even greater one—and who thinks it is high time he got started writing it."

Agnes E. Meyer, Washington writer, speaking in San Diego—"Our leaders proclaim their faith in democracy with moving eloquence. But what they need is more faith in the American people, in their intelligence, patriotism and capacity to fight a people's war."

Florencio Alcalde, San Jose, convicted of killing sweetheart—"I was tried by ten coldblooded murderers."

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go on one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

The new war ration of CHEESE

There are those of us who take cheese eating to heart—and those who could let even an all-out cheese rationing pass gaily by. True, good cooking cheese—like American (Cheddar)—is rationed down to pretty small bites, but even the cheese fancier can struggle along with the non-rationed cream cheeses, Brie, Blue, Neufchatel, Liederkranz and the others.

If you have leaned heavily on this aristocrat of foods—you will now need to adjust your menus considerably, both from the "taste" standpoint and nutrition. Because cheese is particularly high in proteins and comes close to milk as the almost perfect food.

You can stretch your ration allowance in numerous ingenious ways: by grating it to make cheese dumplings, pastry toppings for vegetable pies or casserole dishes, or as the added touch to white sauce for vegetables. Again, instead of macaroni-and-cheese, see your cookbook for good substitute main-dishes high in proteins.

Proposed Ceiling Prices On Meats May Be Revised

By order of the OPA, control prices of beef, mutton, veal and lamb, which were scheduled to go into effect today (Thursday) were postponed until May 17.

Hinting that prices may be cut, the postponement was ordered to permit a re-examination of the prices in the light of recent "hold down prices" by presidential decree. Yesterdays action does not effect standardized prices on pork which became effective April 1.

OPA also rolled back prices on poultry. Ceilings are to be established at farm levels.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

That new cooking range, whether it be gas, electric or otherwise, is something to look forward to when the War is won. But you can start saving now to buy it. Put a definite amount, every payday, ten percent of your pay check . . . into War Bonds today.

When your Bonds mature you will have the money ready for that new range. You will have made a good investment, getting back $4 for every $3. And your purchase of War Bonds is helping that boy, husband or sweetheart on the fighting front.

DRESSED FOR WAR WORK

Here is a fashion hint to young women who seek careers in Uncle Sam's war industries. A representative of the United States Public Health Service casts an approving eye on the working togs of two youthful plant workers. Their apparel, according to the State Council of Defense, meets the requirements of both safety and comfort.

THE 2nd WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

How to invest in "fighting dollars!"

"Lend more money to help carry on the fight!" That's what our Government is asking you and all the rest of us . . . asking us to lend it 13 billion fighting dollars in the next few weeks! 13 billion extra dollars—over and above all regular War Bond buying!

We can do it . . . we must do it . . . we owe it to our boys who are fighting overseas. For their sake . . .

We've got to build more ships! We broke all records last year when we built 8 million tons of shipping. This year, we're building 18 million tons . . . but still it is not enough!

We've got to do more fighting! More and more of our soldiers and sailors are going into actual combat . . . requiring more equipment, and more supplies. We cannot let them down!

We've got to buy more War Bonds! To help pay for the things our fighting men need . . . we've got to buy War Bonds as we never bought them before!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of men and women who are giving their time and effort to the 2nd War Loan Drive. Welcome these patriotic workers if they call . . . buy from them all the War Bonds you can!

Better still, don't wait for them. Go to your nearest bank, post office, or War Bond booth, and invest more fighting dollars now! It's the least you can do to help those who are fighting and dying overseas!

Among the 7 different kinds of U. S. Government securities is one that exactly fits your own particular purse and requirements. These securities are the finest investment in the world . . . bar none! For your Country's sake . . . for your own sake . . . invest all you can!

THEY GIVE THEIR LIVES . . . YOU LEND YOUR MONEY!

FIRE FLAMES

For the first time since the organization of the volunteer Fire Department, not enough members were present to complete a quorum Friday evening. Much important business had to be postponed because many are now working at night and the others working extra hard thru the day. This is a proven truth that each individual counts. We can't rely on the other fellow.

Even tho' there was a shortage of the voting members, there were several of the Auxiliary men present, all of whom were given an opportunity to practice operating the trucks.

"Night sleeping" at the station is also on the wane. The Chief is having some difficulty in keeping all nights covered. The now notorious "wrecking crew" on duty Monday nights is still intact, with the exception of a short absence of Spears, who has been ill. It is sincerely hoped that Harold returns to normal soon.

The mind that is cheerful at present will have no solace for the future, and will meet the bitter occurrences of life with a smile.

—Horace.

WOMEN AT WAR

Rosebud

Rosebud is eight, and the most beautiful shade of caramel fudge. To her loving Mammy and Pappy she is known, on approximately alternate days, as "Angel" and "You devil child". It was on her devil child days that Rosebud tied the knots in the shirts that Mammy had taken in for washing, and poured the whole of the vanilla bottle into the lamb stew, just, she said later through bitter tears, to "flavor it up some".

On her angel days Rosebud is equally imaginative even if a more restful occupant of the little shack down on Vinegar Hill. Once when Mammy was out doing day work, Rosebud got a wave of cleaning fever and scoured every pot and pan in the kitchen so that they literally glistened. Another day, left alone, she tidied up Mammy's and Pappy's room to such a point of apple-pie order that it was a week before Pappy could find an undershirt.

Rosebud is a great reader of the newspapers. Mammy and Pappy don't take one, but there are plenty of perfectly good newspapers blowing round Vinegar Hill. It was out of one of them that Rosebud got her idea for spending the ten cents the Bunny had put under her pillow the night her tooth came out. After breakfast Rosebud disappeared down the Hill and reappeared soon after with a beautiful ten-cent War Stamp pasted firmly into a brand-new book with neat little squares for more stamps. She displayed her investment to Mammy. "I declare you're an angel child," Mammy said. Rosebud went on sitting on the kitchen floor staring with large brown eyes at the empty squares in her book. From time to time she took hold of one or another of her teeth and wiggled it, gently.

Mammy was engrossed in a particularly big washing. Rosebud was as quiet as a mouse, and Mammy forgot about her until, coming in from the yard with her arms full of dry sheets, she encountered her child with a large hammer in her hand. Scouting the devil in her angel child, Mammy shouted at her, "Rosebud! Come yere with that hammer! What you planning on doing?"

But what was done was done. In Rosebud's other hand was another tooth. Her mouth was stretched in a broad if slightly bloody smile. "I ain't doing nothing, Mammy," she said. "I'm just filling up my stamp book."

Kath Kerry's Suggestions For An Easily Prepared Wartime Luncheon

By Katherine Kerry

Plan a war rationed luncheon that is easily prepared, wholesome and nutritious, and yet not heavy enough to cloud the mind for the business at hand, whether it be a foursome of bridge or some knitting for the Red Cross.

FISH CAKES

For these cakes use fresh or canned fish—crab is my favorite, but cooked halibut, salmon or tuna will do the trick. In other words, use what you have or can get—and like it.

Use 2/3 cup of crab, 2/3 cup mashed potatoes, 1 egg yolk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon finely minced parsley, 1/3 cup flour, 4 tablespoons fat.

Mix the crab with the potatoes and seasonings and shape into 4 cakes 2/3 inch thick. Roll in flour and brown well in fat heated in a frying pan. Arrange on plates and surround with creamed asparagus.

STUFFED PEACH SALADS

This will knock your points into a cocked hat unless you were lucky enough to have canned peaches last summer. However, you will have enough for the family, too, for you use only 4 canned peach halves, 1/3 cup cottage cheese, 3 tablespoons chopped California walnuts, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon cream, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1/8 teaspoon paprika. Mix the cheese, nuts, celery and cream. Stuff the peaches and chill. Arrange on a lettuce leaf, top with the salad dressing, and sprinkle with paprika.

COCOANUT DELIGHT CAKE

1/3 cup shortening, 2/3 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder. Cream the shortening and beet sugar. Add the rest of the ingredients (sifted flour, salt and baking powder sifted together) and beat for several minutes until light. Pour into a shallow pan lined with waxed paper. Bake about 30 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Cover with coconut topping.

Committee Named to Nominate Woman's Club Candidates

At the Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, Mrs. Charles Klunk of the Executive Board, Mrs. Adria Johnson and Mrs. C. H. Sandage were appointed as the nominating committee to select club officer candidates for the coming year.

An unusually interesting program was presented by Mrs. Beatrice Van Meter, who has lived on the Burma Road for years, and witnessed its dramatic history-making developments. Bruce McGill was honored guest at the club meeting.

America's Food Emergency

A Statement by Santa Fe

United States facing most critical "crop year" in its history.

During the coming months, the need for more food may be greater than the need for more guns, tanks and planes.

Serving, as it does, "the breadbasket of America," the livestock and meat industry, and the great fruit and vegetable areas of California and the Southwest, Santa Fe pledges its all-out effort in the production and mobilization of food.

What Santa Fe Is Doing

Santa Fe employees are planting Victory Gardens along their railroad's 13,199 miles of right-of-way.

Everything that rolls on the Santa Fe is being kept in fighting trim.

Old cars with good running gear are being rebuilt into sleek new gondolas.

Many Santa Fe refrigerator cars that used to go back "dead-head" now hurry back loaded with other freight.

They're On The Job, Too!

For years the Agricultural Development Department of Santa Fe has cooperated with growers all along the line, for greater production per acre, through better seeds and better cultural methods. For example:

The people of the middle Rio Grande know how the desert has been converted into paying crops.

The folks in Blue Water Valley of western New Mexico know how the production of vegetables has increased from 86 to 1076 carloads in the past three years.

The potato growers of Kern County,

Cars are few and hours are precious. Every hour a freight car stands idle holds back food or other vital war freight from folks who need it. Every unused cubic foot squanders vital space.

The supply experts of the Army and Navy, the ODT, and the Interstate Commerce Commission Bureau of Service are all focusing on this problem.

How Shippers Are Helping Shippers are helping and can continue to help (1) by maximum loading; (2) by quicker loading; (3) by quicker unloading.

More than 57,000 Santa Fe folks join with the farmers, the livestock producers, the shippers, and the consumers of all America to help meet the greatest food crisis our nation has ever faced.

California, know how Santa Fe cooperated in stamping out ring rot and blight.

This year, the people in the Texas Panhandle are bringing in their first harvest of waxy kafir which promises to produce the starch for tapioca and other important products that formerly came from the cassava roots of Java.

In the present national food emergency, these people of Santa Fe's Agricultural Development Department are working harder than ever, doing everything they can to help food growers all along the line.

BETTER LICK OUR ENEMIES BEFORE STARTING INTERNAL WAR BUREAUCRATS WARNED

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

With American fighting men reaching the combat areas in ever increasing numbers, and with American food and equipment bolstering the supply lines of the United Nations, we are starting to win battles on the war front, instead of being forced to fight after, losing, defensive actions against superior numbers and superior armament as we did during the first year of the war.

But we have still only begun to fight—and we now seem to be losing battles on the Washington front and the home front which will eventually imperil the whole war effort unless we get at the root of the difficulty and start doing as good a job at home as our troops are doing in the field.

Bureaucratic bungling and "politics as usual" have been blamed for much of the chaos and confusion in our home economy, but there is a third factor of at least equal importance in fomenting dissension and disunity and in disrupting the Nation at a time when it desperately needs to stand united against the common enemy. That is the constant and increasingly brazen attempt on the part of some of the men in high places in Washington to use the war as an excuse and a tool for forcing a change in our American form of government.

Vice President Wallace, whose philosophy inclines more and more toward national socialism, has been a leading spokesman for this group of politicians and social reformers. In one of his recent speeches, Mr. Wallace issued a somewhat ambiguous warning that we must not "double-cross" the Soviet government. The American public, knowing that we have been pouring supplies into Russia at a tremendous rate, even at the cost of delaying badly-needed planes, tanks and other equipment to General MacArthur's forces in the Pacific, and to our fighting men on other fronts, is still perplexed as to just what Wallace meant, because this country has never double-crossed an ally and isn't likely to begin doing it now. But if more recent utterances of Mr. Wallace are studied carefully it appears that what the Vice President was trying to say was that we will "double-cross" the Soviet unless we bring our own form of government more nearly into accord with the Russian form, so that we can work more happily with Russia in "the new world order".

If that be the price of enjoying Russia's complete confidence, as Mr. Wallace infers, then this war will have certainly cost us dearly. We have not asked Russia to change her form of government because she is fighting on our side—and the people of America are beginning to wonder about a Vice-President of the United States who spends his time, as he did in a recent broadcast, declaring: "The people's revolution is on the march, and the devil and all his angels cannot prevail against it." The American people thought they had engaged to fight a war—not a revolution—and most of them still think so, Mr. Wallace to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Evidencing the same trend toward trying to push the Nation into a change in its form of government while American boys are away fighting to defend the present system, and while most of the people at home are giving their undivided attention to winning the war, was the recent report of the National Resources Planning Board, released by President Roosevelt.

This report, after recommending a greatly expanded social security system allegedly designed to protect every citizen from the cradle to the grave, urged that this be accomplished by the government becoming a "partner" in many forms of business and industry. Included were such strategic industries as the railroads, shipbuilding, aircraft, aluminum, magnesium, etc.

Isn't it about time that Washington officialdom devoted itself to solving the badly-muddled food problem and the other critical problems which beset this country, and which are endangering the success of the war effort? Isn't it about time that we stopped fighting an internal war while we are in a life and death struggle with the Axis? We think it is.

People having summer and winter homes in different parts of the country cannot receive gasoline to travel from one to another even though they may spend six months at one or the other home, as six months does not constitute a legal residence.

No expiration dates are now placed on tire certificates. This regulation went into effect April 1. Persons holding certificates can purchase tires at their convenience.

The district board is not permitted by the O.P.A. regulations to issue certificates for coffee to the consumer on a doctor's certificate, as coffee is not considered a necessary medication by the O.P.A. Other stimulants may be used.

No ration coupons will have to be surrendered to buy extra sugar for canning and preserving this year. Persons wishing to can fruits or preserve, need only to apply at their War Price and Rationing Board for canning sugar permits.

All foods and beverages sold in hotels, restaurants, taverns and similar establishments, are now under price ceilings.

Announce Services For Palm Sunday

Palm Sunday, significant of the beginning of Holy Week will be celebrated at the Church of Ascension with the blessing of the Palms and distribution to the congregation, representing the triumphal entry of Christ into the Holy City at the 10:30 a.m. service.

Father Leo Scheibel announces the blessings of the Palms at 11 a.m. service at the St. Rita's Catholic Church.

WITH SIERRA MADRE BOYS IN SERVICE

View ave. He is on leave from Fort Meade, Md., where he is stationed with the Army.

Dick Patterson, formerly employed manager of the local Safeway meat market, now stationed at San Diego with the Navy, was home on leave during the week end.

Lieut. George J. Otte arrived by plane Saturday morning to spend a short leave with his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Otte of North Baldwin ave. He returned Monday to MacDill Field at Tampa, Fla., where he is stationed as an instructor in the radio intelligence company. Lieut. Otte enlisted in Dec., 1940, took his basic training at Paso Robles, was transferred to Radio Technical School at Scott Field, Ill., and then sent to Officer's Training School at Mammouth, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne William W. Cass of 299 N. Adams st., have received official word that their son, Pvt. William W. Cass, has been sent overseas from Camp Edwards, Mass. Another son, Pvt. Merle J. Cass, who is stationed at the Army air base at Hammer Field, Fresno, spent a four day leave visiting his family, last week.

Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. W. H. Scovins with children, Susan and Buddy, former well known residents of this city, were overnight guests of friends in Altadena this week on their way north where the Comdr. will be stationed with the Navy. He has been stationed in Washington, D.C., and assisted in the organization of a hospital for convalescent service men at Glenwood Springs, Colo., when the government took over the famous Colorado Springs Hotel.

Rosary was recited, Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Grant Chapel. Mass was held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Immaculate Conception Church of Monrovia. Interment was held at the family plot in Live Oak Cemetery, Monrovia. Six veterans of World War I served as casket bearers.

Sierra Madre Girl Wins Top Honors In A Drama Contest

Sylvia Shippey, 16.2 Wilson Junior High School student had the privilege of meeting Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, First Lady of China, April first, at the Ambassador Hotel during Mme. Chiang's reception to the Hollywood stars.

Sylvia was the only one of her age present and one of the few people to be introduced to Mme. Chiang who was extremely sorry she could not shake hands, because "in the first place, my doctor forbids it; in the second place, I have a cold; and in the third place, I have a stiff neck—" the gracious lady said.

Sylvia was fortunate in being able to speak to Mme. Chiang, as many of the excited crowd were not able to.

"She reminded me of a freshly picked flower. One would never have known how she felt after that long hard day of speech making and parades. She was calm, gracious and poised," said Sylvia telling of the meeting.

Sylvia believes her to be the most charming woman in the world.

St. Rita's School To Fly Minute Man Flag Mothers Buy It

St. Rita's School has received permission from the Treasury Department to fly the Minute Man flag. This privilege was given the school on account of its record in the purchase of war stamps and bonds. Ninety percent of the children have bought not less than fifty cents worth of war stamps.

Funds for purchase of the flag will be given by the St. Rita's Mother's Club.

Soldiers At Camp Santa Anita Invest $27,200 In War Bonds

Soldiers and officers at Camp Santa Anita in the last month have purchased $27,200 worth of War Bonds. One man, Pvt. Allen M. Elliott, formerly of Knoxville, Tenn., put cash on the line to buy five $1000 bonds all at once. The money was his revenue from the sale of some property in his home town, and he figured War Bonds was the best place to keep it.

STATE PICNICS

Texans of California will hold their spring picnic April 18th, in Sycamore Grove.

When the flying jeep, American small liaison plane, can't be flown to location, it can be taken apart, loaded on a truck, and hauled with equipment to the scene.
